Subject: New main catalogue 2022

Thread technology: clear-compact-efficient

With the new main catalogue 22, REIME NORIS presents its current portfolio and offers a high added value on the subject of thread technology by providing comprehensive help for all applications.

All tools for precision threading are presented in a neatly arranged form with clear structures. The portfolio includes taps, forming taps and thread mills as well as dies, but also twist drills, thread gauges and tapping chucks. Furthermore, a focused system makes it possible to find the most suitable threading tools for all machining conditions in just a few steps.

In addition to the product range, the user has access to extensive additional information and help on thread machining, which is assigned to the individual product areas. Material overviews and formulas also provide important guidance. This information ensures safe and efficient use of the tools in everyday work and thus contributes to high quality in machining.

In addition to this catalogue, REIME NORIS GmbH with its thread specialists and their comprehensive know-how is available to advise customers.

REIME NORIS means - thread technology of the highest precision with over 100 years of experience!
