Subject: New WebShop

Easy and fast selection and ordering of precision threading tools

Precision threading tool specialist REIME NORIS has launched a new WebShop that significantly simplifies the digital purchasing of threading tools. The platform combines a modern, user-friendly design with a range of practical features that make the ordering process more efficient for customers.

In the “My Account” area, users can centrally manage their order history, quotes, and inquiries. Wish lists make it easy to reorder frequently needed tools, while an integrated tool comparison function supports the selection of the optimal solution.

An intelligent product search delivers precise results and displays real-time availability. This allows lead times to be assessed immediately and projects to be planned more efficiently.

With this step, REIME NORIS positions itself as a provider of a state-of-the-art online channel that not only meets the standards of modern e-commerce solutions, but is also specifically tailored to the needs of professional manufacturing companies.
